Newberg Public Library

Welcome back to the library! We have been working hard to maintain high quality standards for you at the library. You will notice frequent cleaning of countertops and equipment, plexiglass at the reference and circulation desks, and library staff will be wearing masks.

During the closure, library staff and crafty members of the community had the opportunity to make and distribute over 4,200 masks to local areas.

Other changes include:

- Late May, we had our brand new RFID gates installed. We are excited to share this new technology with you. Many great features include increased reliability during checkout and more security for patrons.
- Some collections upstairs have been moved to have better flow in the library. Be on the lookout for changes in the audiobook, large print, DVD, and teen collections.
- Come visit our new visually-impaired collection! Library Director, Will, has been working hard to create and develop this new section in our library.
- Congratulations to Sue on her retirement! Sue has been a valuable member of the circulation team for over 15 years. She will be greatly missed.

Summer Reading 2020: Imagine a Story

June 6- August 15, 2020

Summer reading is back! Register families, kids, & teens at newberglibrary.org. Complete a summer reading challenge to earn a free book at Chapter's Books for each person (up to $10 value) for your first log. Submit completed logs to the library during open hours or by email to NPLprograms@protonmail.com.

There is no registration required for individual adults participating in the program. Just complete a challenge log and submit it in person or by email to NPLadults@protonmail.com for the chance to win drawing prizes.

All challenges can be repeated through 8/15/2020 for additional entries. Visit newberglibrary.org for additional information.
