

Autumn Leaves, 1922

by Tessa Lunney

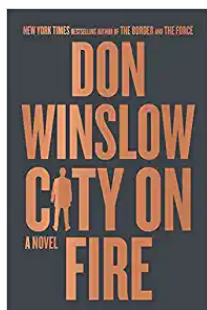

After a year away from Paris, Kiki Button is delighted to be back in City of Lights. But danger threatens her return as she is pulled into another spy mission - one that brings her ever closer to the rising fascist threat in Europe.

Booked for Death

by Victoria Gilbert

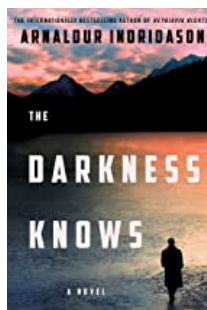

A series debut finds the heir of a recently renovated book-themed B&B wrongly implicated in the murder of a rare book dealer who claimed the inn was built on stolen funds.

City on Fire

by Don Winslow

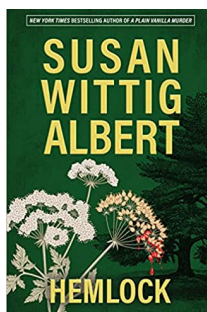

Two criminal empires together control all of New England. Until a woman comes between the Irish and the Italians, launching a war that will destroy them. He must be a master in a game in which the winners live and the losers die.

The Darkness Knows

by Arnalour Indridason

When the frozen body of a businessman who disappeared 30 years earlier is found in the icy depths of the glacier, former detective Konrad is called out of retirement to reopen this case that has weighed on his mind for decades.

Hemlock

by Susan Wittig Albert

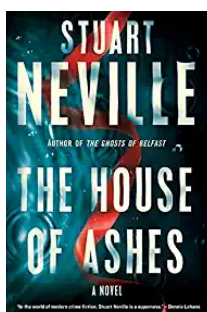

Hemlock is a compelling mix of mystery and herb lore, past secrets and present sins, and characters who are as real as your friends and neighbors-in an absorbing novel that only Susan Wittig Albert could create.

The Hollywood Spy

by Susan Elia MacNeal

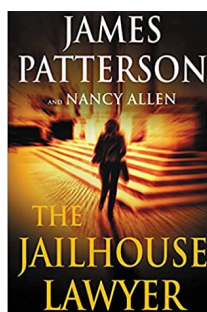

In 1943 Los Angeles, American-born secret agent and British spy Maggie Hope comes to the aid of her old flame after his fiancé is murdered, and soon discovers that things aren't always the way they appear in movies.

The House of Ashes

by Stuart Neville

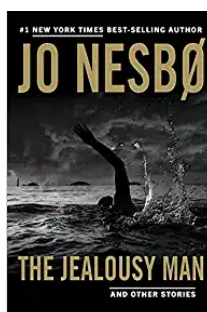

Sara moves to Northern Ireland is all but a prisoner in her own house. When Mary beats on the door blood-soaked, the two women form a bond over their shared traumas. Sara stands up to her abuser, and Mary is finally ready to tell her story . . .

The Jailhouse Lawyer

by James Patterson

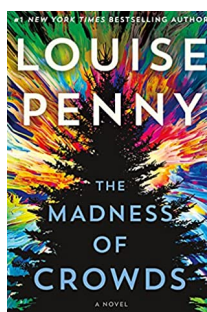

In picture-perfect Erva, Alabama, the most serious crimes are misdemeanors. Speeding tickets. Shoplifting. Contempt of court. Then why is the jail so crowded? And why are so few prisoners released? There's only one place to learn the truth behind these incriminating secrets.

The Jealousy Man

by Jo Nesbo

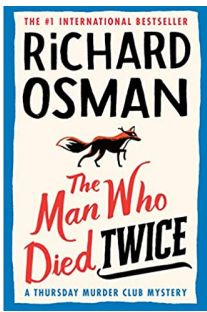

A detective is on the trail of a murder suspect; a father decides whether vengeance is the answer; a man fresh off a bender tries to figure out what happened; an assassin fights his greatest adversary; and love is in the air for passengers on a flight to London. Or is it?

The Madness of Crowds

by Louise Penny

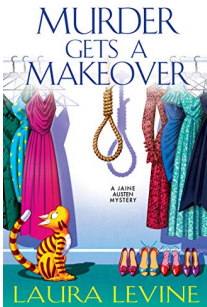

When a professor spreads lies so that the truth is confused it's near impossible to tell them apart, leading to murder, Chief Inspector Armand Gamache must investigate this case as well as this extraordinary popular delusion -- and the madness of crowds.

The Man Who Died Twice

by Richard Osman

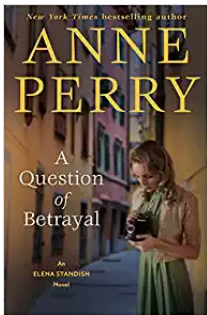

When an old friend has been accused of stealing and needs her help leaving a dead body in his wake, Elizabeth and her friends go up against a ruthless murderer who wouldn't bat an eyelid at knocking off four septuagenarians.

Murder Gets a Makeover

by Laura Levine

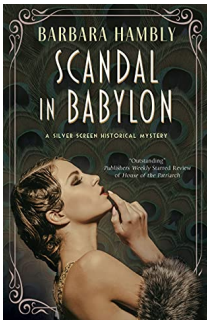

Stylist Bebe Braddock thinks Jaine would make a perfect model. Few are shocked when Bebe is found strangled. Unless Jaine can track down Bebe's killer and clear her own name, her new outfit will be an orange prison jumpsuit.

A Question of Betrayal

by Laura Levine

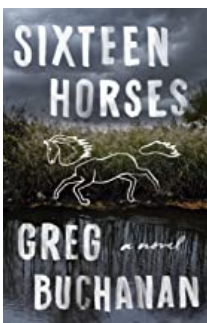

A sequel to Death in Focus finds daring young MI6 photographer Elena Standish embarking on a first mission in Mussolini's Italy to rescue and uncover the truth about a former lover who betrayed her six years earlier.

Scandal in Babylon

by Barbara Hambly

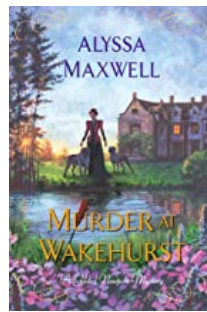

This gripping first in a brand-new series from NYT-bestselling author Barbara Hambly brings the sights and sounds of Hollywood to life and is a perfect pick for fans of female-fronted historical mysteries set in the roaring twenties.

Sixteen Horses

by Greg Buchanan

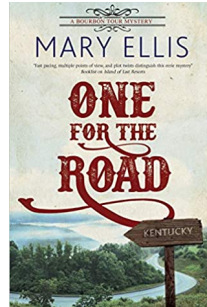

With the town of Ilmarsh, England falling into panic and paranoia due to disappearances, arson and mutilations, local police detective and Veterinary Forensics expert Cooper Allen must risk everything to uncover the truth behind these terrifying mysteries.

Murder at Wakehurst

by Richard Osman

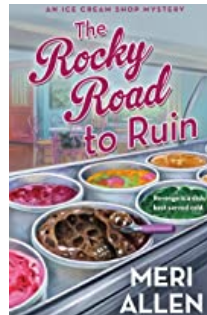

journalist Emma Vanderbilt stumbles upon a dead body with an arrow in it and discovers the victim is a judge who didn't walk the straight and narrow, must score a bull's eye to stop the killer from taking another life.

One For the Road

by Mary Ellis

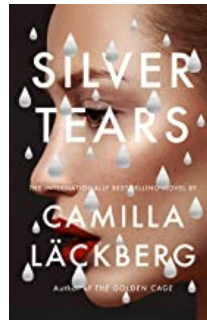

Travel writer Jill Curtis is sent to Kentucky to uncover a story. Her visit goes awry when she trips over a body and becomes a suspect in the murder. Can she navigate high-stakes Bourbon rivalries, centuries-old family feuds and ill-fated romance to find a killer?

The Rocky Road to Ruin

by Meri Allen

Riley Rhodes, travel food blogger and librarian at the CIA, makes a bittersweet return to her childhood home for a funeral. Trouble begins to swirl and Mike turns up dead in the barn the morning after the funeral. Can Riley find the killer before another body gets scooped?

Silver Tears

by Camilla Lackberg

In this riveting novel of seduction, deceit and female power, three generations of women, who have survived in hiding from the men who sought to destroy them, find that secrets always end in tears.

Velvet Was the Night

by Silvia Moreno-Garcia

In 1970s Mexico City, Maite, searches for her missing neighbor, Leonora, a beautiful art student, which leads her to an eccentric gangster who longs to escape his own life, and together, they set out to discover the dangerous truth.

For additional reading suggestions,
contact:

(503) 538-7323 x6 -or-nplibrary@newbergoregon.gov